<< KILL MAMDAMI – BEFORE HE KILLS * YOU* >> : 50 Years ago : AUSCHWITZ REVIVAL at VICTORIA LAKE, by so-called "Anti-Fascists"

Everyone seems to be criticizing Benjamin Netanyahu - but maybe no one (wants to) understand(s) him.

Today is a day for this - he lost his elder brother Yoni in the fight against terrorists, fifty years ago on July 04, 1976.

Also, most people seem to `think` that the - earnestly called "progressive" - ancient rage against "the West", its so-called Judeo-Christian foundation and against ALL Jews, "not just" the "non-leftist" ones, "not just" against Zionism should be "something new", though it is "only" the ages old same old pure Jew Hate, nothing more nothing less.

"The" Jews, no matter what they really are and represent, are always "guilty" of everything, no matter what "they" do - but there are billions of jewish and non-jewish Scott Wieners all around the world who just won't comprehend.

Benjamin Netanyahu repeatedly stated that the loss of his brother had profoundly shaped his thinking on terrorism.

When will the rest of the world follow ?

There are four further humans to be honoured today:

- Ida Borochoovich
- Jean-Jacques Mimouni
- Pasco Cohen
- Dora Bloch (murdered in a hospital following the rescue operation, on the orders of Ugandan dictator Idi Amin).

This very same brutal butcher, Idi Amin, is one of the figures revered and celebrated as a "liberator" by individuals- such as the father of the current mayor of New York, Mamdani- at U.S. "state" Universities that are nonetheless funded by states like Qatar.

Those persons named, including Yonathan Netanyahu, died on July 03, 1976, fifty years ago this day, when terrorists hijacked an Air France plane and took out only the Jewish passengers as hostages. Israel rescued them in an adventurous mission. To this day, the operation shapes the thinking and actions of many Israelis- including Benjamin Netanyahu.

When Air France Flight 139—en route from Tel Aviv to Paris via Athens with 248 passengers on board—was hijacked on June 27, 1976, no one suspected that it would turn into one of the most spectacular hostage rescues in history.

After a stopover in Athens, four terrorists seized control of the aircraft: two members of the Popular Front for the Liberation of "P*lestine" (PFLP) and two Germans from the so-called "Revolutionary Cells". The terrorists demanded the release of dozens of prisoners held in Israel and other countries.

In Israel, the joy over the later successful operation of freeing most of the hostages, except the ones named above, though was tempered by deep reflection.

Published cabinet minutes after the successful operation reveal a level-headed Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin saying: `A battle had been won, but not the war´.

Terrorists would learn from Entebbe; Israel, too, had to draw lessons from the hijacking and prepare for new dangers.

Most of "The West" haven't learned still until today.

Otherwise, a.o. they wouldn't let earnestly so-called "Progressives" with in fact atavistic and ancient Jew Hate attitudes, have their way. Nor even such a "mayor" like the new Plastic Hitler Mamdami.

Indeed, the face of terrorism changed.

Hijackings gave way to suicide bombings and rocket attacks.

Later, global "Jihadism" emerged—whether driven by Al-Qaeda, ISIS, or other organizations. Finally came October 7, 2023, the Hamas massacre in Israel.

There seems to be (claimed) an apparent `dilemma´ in non-totalitarian "Western" States in such situations as in Entebbe, Uganda.

-- How does a democratic state protect its citizens ?

-- Should we negotiate with terrorists to save hostages, or categorically refuse negotiations in the hope of preventing future hijackings ?

This "Dilemma" had a.o. been arousing in 2011, when then Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu released 1.027 Palestinian prisoners in exchange for Gilad Shalit, an Israeli soldier who had been abducted and taken to Gaza.

It was a disproportionate price that Israel was willing to pay for a single hostage. Among the later released `P*lestinians´ was Yahya Sinwar, the future mastermind behind October 7, 2023.

Back to July 03, 1976 – when the hi-jacked plane eventually landed in Entebbe, Uganda, where dictator Idi Amin granted the hijackers protection.

For that he is celebrated until today by the family "Mamdami" whose offspring got elected by "free citizens" of a "free `democratic` society".

They also celebrate something that became deeply seared into the collective Israeli memory:

The hijackers separated - SELECTED - the hostages like on an AUSCHWITZ RAMP.

Israelis and Jews were forced to remain, while most of the other passengers were released.

It was a process of selection.

For the first time since Oswiecim/ Auschwitz, Germans were once again SELECTING and singling out JEWS.

The symbolism was harrowing.

The fact that it was two ("left") German terrorists who chose to do this left the Jewish world stunned.

These were not "old Nazis", but "young Germans" standing before Jewish people with weapons drawn.

Just as the so-called "Progressives" all over the "Western World" are allowed to do today.

Though without any doubt they, the "Progressives", ARE NAZIS.

"Nazi" = an abbreviation for "National Socialism". `SOCIALISM`.

But "the World" still doesn't recognize it, just as they still don't recognize that so-called "Socialism" is NOTHING and cannot end up in ANYTHING but FASCISM, suppression, Gulags, dehumanization.

The "Free World" allows FASCISTS, an ISLAMIST FASCIST, to run "success"fully in elections and be mayor in the major Western city of Free Trade, Free Markets, Free Expression, Free Arts handing it over to Stone Age minds destroying Buddha Statues.

As documents recently released by the Israel State Archives reveal, Israel's Defense Minister Shimon Peres was horrified during a cabinet meeting.

He described the image of "two Germans with drawn weapons facing Israeli children, whose only 'crime' is that they are Israelis, and Jews".

`As a Jew` (!), he said, he could not block out these images. For members of the Israeli government, history seemed to be returning with brutal force.

Today, with Israeli Air Force missions thousands of kilometers from Israel having become a matter of technological routine, it is hard to imagine that such a military operation once appeared almost absurd.

Rabin therefore initially had advocated considering a prisoner exchange. He argued that Israel had previously exchanged terrorists for bodies; how, then, could one not want to rescue living hostages? But Yoni Netanyahu knew better, and Defense Minister Shimon Peres opposed Rabin's proposal: Yielding to demands that this `could turn kidnappings into a business model for terrorists`.

Peres posed a difficult question:

was the priority rescuing the hostages or ensuring the long-term security of the Jewish state?

Israel had to be willing to take risks to maintain its deterrent capability.

Ultimately, the decision was made to launch the military operation – clearly because they knew they were on their own.

Though a.o. two of the Hi-Jackers were German `RAF´-Terrorists, the Federal Republic of Germany provided no active military or political assistance for the rescue operation, at least not "officially".

And this four years after the brutal Arabian (`P*lestinian´) terrorism murder act in Munich Olympics 1972, in its "form" and concrete action reminiscent of / similar to a.o. the Arabian/Muslim massacres against Jews as the Hamas Terrorist massacre October 07.2023 or in Hebron 1929, when – "as we all know" – "Jews and Arabians "were peacefully living together" and the alleged "Cause of Islamic Terrorism", the founding of the modern – no way the first – State of Israel, hadn't yet taken place, `because´ first there had to be another 6 million Jews to be slaughtered and a.o. around a million of Jews expelled in a TRUE, *REAL* `NAKHBA´ from "Arabian" states in North Africa/West Asia where they had been living for thousands of years, a.o. the "FARHUD" 1941 – seven years BEFORE the 1948 founding of the modern State of Israel – murdering and expelling all Jews from BAGHDAD where around a quarter of inhabitants were Jewish.

Around half of Israel's Jewish inhabitants are Mizrahim (`oriental´ Jews) – but still in "The West" the so-called "P*lestines" and their "friends" are allowed to spread that `the Jews of Israel are all Ashkenazim and came in after the Shoah´.

The "Progressives" and "Leftists" are allowed to spread any lie about endangered, expelled, left alone, threatened Jews with NO PLACE TO GO coming in as alleged "Colonialists" when they only return to their HOMELAND !

Before WWII, in Germany and everywhere else "The Jews" got yelled at : "Go back to Palestine, where you came from !"

Now they ARE in so-called "Palestine" – a totally mere COLONIALIST naming given to the Holy Jewish Land from the outside, from REAL Colonialists, a naming before WWII rejected by BOTH Arabians AND Jews living there –, and NOW ? they ARE in so-called "P*lestine" – and ...? – they get yelled at to vanish from there ...! ? From their HOMELand ?

A blatant example of that "the Jews" can never do right, no matter what they do, provided by JEW HATERS who claim "Oh No we are not Jew Haters".

The government led by Chancellor Helmut Schmidt maintained a stance of "strict neutrality" and refused to intervene in the conflict.

Two of the four principal hijackers were German and members of the "left" terrorist "Revolutionary Cells" (RZ)–Wilfried Böse and Brigitte Kuhlmann–: they led the hijacking and separated the Jewish hostages from the non-Jewish ones.

Apart from that, according to historians and media reports, Ulrich Wegener, commander of the German special forces unit GSG 9, had been present in the vicinity prior to or during the operation and reportedly provided advisory expertise during the preparations. "Officially", however, there was no German government deployment.

The West German government (while the Communist East German "GDR" was a second home to Arafat, Moscow being his first) focused exclusively on "diplomatic channels" to save the lives of the hijacked passengers–among whom were several German nationals.

Prime Minister Rabin said: "No one will stand by us... The entire world is indifferent to our fate, and we must harbour no illusions".

Yet those in charge were well aware that there would almost certainly be fatalities among both the hostages and the soldiers.

During the night of July 3–4, 1976, that adventurous military operation took place:

Four Israeli transport planes, accompanied by several fighter jets and two Boeing 707s, took off for Africa – 4,000 kilometers away.

The responsibility for this daring mission weighed heavily on the Israeli cabinet; a catastrophe was a clear possibility.

"Operation Yonatan"–as the mission was later named–was prepared with the utmost precision.

Israel possessed original blueprints of the airport, as Israeli companies had helped build it years earlier when Idi Amin was still hoping the Israelis might be fond of him: in the late 1960s and early 1970s, Israel had provided significant support to this East African nation. Relations between the two states were close, as Israel trained Ugandan armed forces and funded major infrastructure projects, including the expansion of Entebbe Airport.

Idi Amin himself underwent military training and was initially regarded as a partner by Jerusalem. The Break followed in 1972, after Amin's 1971 "coup" and seizure of power, when Uganda's domestic political and economic situation deteriorated drastically and Idi Amin turned out as a reckless mass slaughterer, committing a REAL Genocide, now CELEBRATED by the Mamdami family !

In an effort to divert attention from internal problems and secure funds from Arab governments, Idi Amin executed a radical political about-face/ "change" in 1972.

He expelled Israeli military advisors and construction firms and completely severed diplomatic ties with Israel.

Israel soldiers that night practiced the assault on a scale model of the terminal.

To ensure the element of surprise, they even brought along a black Mercedes as a decoy—a vehicle resembling the Ugandan president's official car.

The plan was risky: in a very short span of time, the terrorists were to be neutralized, the hostages freed, and everyone—hostages and Israeli soldiers alike—flown out.

From a military standpoint, the operation went almost perfectly.

The hijackers and a number of Ugandan soldiers were killed, and most of the hostages were rescued.

Israel also destroyed several Ugandan fighter jets to prevent pursuit.

Yet a heavy price was paid: Yonatan Netanyahu—known as "Yoni"—the commander of the elite Sayeret Matkal unit, was killed by a sniper.

Three hostages also died during the rescue operation, while a fourth—Dora Bloch (see above), who had previously been taken to a hospital—was later murdered by Ugandan soldiers on the orders of Idi Amin.

For Benjamin Netanyahu, Entebbe arguably might appear as the defining turning point of his life.

The commander killed during the hostage rescue mission, Yonathan/Yoni, was his older brother, regarded as an "exceptional talent", having been tipped as a potential future Chief of General Staff.

His death marked a watershed moment for the family.

Benjamin Netanyahu has frequently stated that the loss of his brother profoundly shaped his thinking on terrorism.

Many observers are convinced that this event gave rise to Netanyahu's conviction that terrorism should be combated primarily through military strength and deterrence.

He views negotiations with deep skepticism, believing they create new vulnerabilities to extortion.

During the Gaza conflicts of recent years, Netanyahu prioritized the destruction of the Islamist group Hamas over the rescue of the hostages.
